

Provoo Sentenced To Life In Prison On Treason Count

New York (AP)—John D. Provoo, an American who became enmeshed in the Oriental mysteries of Buddhism, was sentenced to life in prison yesterday for war-time treason.

He could have been given the electric chair. But Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan said he was sparing Provoo's life because of his emotional instability.

Provoo turned renegade on his capture by the Japanese and his co-operation with them cost at least one American life in the prisoner of war camps of World War II, the prosecution charged.

"Traitors are all to be despised," said Noonan. "Yet there are circumstances in this case that distinguish it from treasonable acts committed within our own country."

Noonan did not elaborate on his statement. But he was sitting in the same federal court in Foley Square where Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were sentenced to death for their part in a wartime atom spy plot within the United States.

Provoo, a handsome, square-jawed former Army sergeant, was convicted Feb. 11 of going over to the Japanese side following his capture at the fall of Corregidor in 1942.

He sank limply into a chair and stared about in dismay at the sentence. A moment earlier he had told the court in a voice near to breaking:

"I can only state that I love my country."

Provoo was arrested Sept. 2, 1949, after years of postwar investigations by the Army and the FBI. Prisoners back from the Japanese held camps of the Pacific first complained of his treason.

His trial began last Oct. 27, and the jury of seven women and five men convicted him after nearly four months of testimony on four counts of treason.

The most serious charge on which he was convicted was his betrayal of a fellow-American prisoner, Capt. Burton C. Thomson, to death at the hands of the Japanese.

The government said Provoo became incensed when Thomson denied him special privileges.

The other charges covered his volunteer service for the Japanese cause and two war time radio propaganda broadcasts from Tokyo.

Provoo was born in San Francisco. Before the war, he went to Japan where he learned Japanese and also studied Buddhism, the 2,500-year-old Oriental religion of reincarnation.

Ford Urges All Tariffs Be Dropped

Chicago (AP)—Henry Ford II said yesterday the United States should "lead the free world toward freer trade" by eliminating all tariffs and other import barriers.

The president of the Ford Motor Co. said American businessmen constantly applaud competition and private enterprise, and added:

"So I just say let's practice what we preach, where it will do us and our allies some real good."

"Let's give our friends a fair crack at the American market."

Witnesses Say Roberts Bought .32 Revolver

Wilkes-Barre, (AP)—Witnesses, obviously intended to show the murder of Mrs. Mary Roberts last June 10 was planned, testified yesterday the victim's husband bought a .32 calibre Smith & Wesson revolver and a box of 50 short Colt cartridges for the weapon two months before the crime.

A revolver fitting the description of the one sold to Roberts was used earlier in the trial to demonstrate how Roberts could have shot himself in the left shoulder. The weapon was taken from a handcart full of commonwealth exhibits brought to the courtroom to be used in evidence.

No attempt has been made to date to show the demonstration gun is the weapon that killed Mrs. Roberts and inflicted the wound on her accused husband.

Joshua Brant, Kingston, owner of a bicycle shop, testified Roberts purchased a revolver from him. He also testified he arranged with Harris hardware store for purchase of bullets by Roberts.

Bryant said also Roberts slipped him a note during a visit to General Hospital that described two alleged hitchhikers as having purchased the ammunition in case anyone made inquiries of Bryant.

A recalcitrant witness, called earlier in the afternoon court session to show he was the clerk who completed the sale of the ammunition, caused Dist. Atty. Louis G. Fiedmann to plead "surprise."

The witness, Herbert M. Poster, employee of Harris Hardware & Supply Co., Kingston, gave evasive answers to the prosecutor's questions until Fiedmann, angered, almost shouted "At this point, your honor, I'm pleading surprise. This is amazing—this testimony."

Another Harris employee, Jack E. Hastings, purchasing agent, followed Porter on the stand to identify an ammunition catalog and a price list placed in the record as the state's Exhibits 105 and 106.

State Police Det. Lt. Charles Hartman was on the stand and had just completed recital of a trip taken by him, fellow policemen and a Wilkes-Barre Record reporter with Roberts on July 21 over the route the accused man said he and his wife took the night she met her death when Judge J. Harold Flannery adjourned court until today.

Proposal Bans Holiday Sale Of Liquors

Harrisburg, (AP)—Public taverns and private clubs would be prohibited from selling liquor or beer on four holidays under a bill introduced in the House yesterday by two Republicans.

Reps. Raymond E. Wilt (R-Allegheny) and James J. Gleason (R-Lycoming) proposed to ban the sale of intoxicating beverages on Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter Sunday and Good Friday.

Public taverns are now prohibited from selling drinks on Election Day during the hours the polls are open but clubs may serve members any time except between 3 a. m. and 7 a. m. on Sundays.

Another new bill would require private clubs to close at midnight Saturdays—the same hour public bars are required to close. Clubs may now stay open until 3 a. m. The measure was introduced by Rep. Wilbur F. Barkdoll (R-Franklin).

Oil Tax Proposed

Harrisburg, (AP)—A state tax of 5 cents a quart on motor oil and other crude petroleum liquids was proposed yesterday in the House.

Burgoon Brothers Thrilled With New Dog, Donate $2 To Help Another Boy Find Pet

Last week Monroe County residents opened their hearts to Tommy and Billy Burgoon, East Stroudsburg RD3 youths who had lost their pet dog.

By week's end, the boys had a new dog—part collie, part terrier—to replace their old one who had been killed by a car.

This week, Tommy and Billy opened their billfolds in an effort to help some "other boy" find a dog of his own.

Mrs. Estella Emmerich, Minisink Hills, who appealed to 'The Daily Record' to run the original story about Tom and Billy and their dog, received a letter from the two boys yesterday.

Inside the letter, Mrs. Emmerich, whose interest in lost dogs and homeless animals has earned a wide reputation in this area, found two one-dollar bills.

There was also a note. The note said:

"Mrs. Emmerich: Here's two dollars and we want you to use this money to get some other little boy a puppy."

Said Mrs. Emmerich:

"I've been doing things like this for years, but this is the first time anyone ever sent me money to help someone else in the same way."

At first Mrs. Emmerich thought she "ought to" send the money back, but finally, she decided it should be used exactly as Tom and Billy had intended it.

During the next few months, Tom and Billy Burgoon will be helping Mrs. Emmerich care and feed for some of the many animals who come to her doorstep.

Constitution Bill Meets Opposition

Harrisburg (AP)—Opposition mounted among Senate Republicans yesterday to an administration-supported bill calling for a convention to revise Pennsylvania's 79-year-old constitution.

"There is definitely some opposition here to a constitutional convention," Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Republican floor leader, told a newsman.

Revision of the state's basic law was advocated in the platforms of both the Democrats and Republicans. Democrats still say they want a revision. But a number of Senate Republicans appear wary of the plan.

In another development before the House and Senate adjourned a two-day session until next Monday, a 10-man legislative committee was named to investigate the safety record of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Eighty-three persons were killed on the 327-mile superhighway last year, an all-time high.

Chesterman Committee recommendations for economy in state government will get the first-hand attention of the lawmakers next Monday. Gov. John S. Fine will address the legislature on the economy report.

The Senate passed its first bill of the 1953 session. It was a measure to permit the trial of involuntary manslaughter cases in quarter sessions court. The bill went to the House.

Meanwhile, Sen. Joseph J. Yosko (D-Northampton) called for public hearings on whether Pennsylvania should be a party to the long-range Incoed plan for developing the Delaware River water resources.

And Sen. Elmer Holland (D-Allegheny) introduced a bill requiring all legislators to divulge their sources of income to avert any possible suspicion of their being in the pay of lobbyists.

Mahany said he could not anticipate what will happen to the constitutional revision bill if and when it reaches the Senate.

"I don't know what will happen," he said. "But we will study the bill from all angles when it reaches us. All opponents will have a chance to speak."

Under the House bill, sponsored by Rep. Albert W. Johnson, GOP floor leader, a convention composed of 120 delegates would meet here next January to revise or write a new constitution.

Cool Weather Predicted For Next 30 Days

Washington, (AP)—The Weather Bureau expects most of the country to be as cool or cooler than usual in the next 30 days.

It was said yesterday.

The outlook for the period from mid-February to mid-March calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals over the eastern half of the nation with the exception of New England and along the Gulf Coast where near normal is indicated.

"Over the Southwest temperatures averaging above normal are predicted, but other western regions are expected to average not far from normal."

"The outlook for precipitation indicates greater than normal amounts in the Pacific Northwest and along the Atlantic Seaboard."

COSTLY CARGO CRUSHED—Expensive television tubes were destroyed and tractor-trailer truck was badly damaged in this wreck yesterday on Route 12 near Snyder'sville. Sylvester J. Halesky, Scranton, the driver, was unhurt. (Daily Record Photo)

Television Tubes Destroyed, Truck Virtually Demolished

Snyder'sville—A tractor-trailer turned over here at 9:25 a. m. yesterday destroying expensive television tubes and virtually demolishing the truck. The driver escaped without injury.

According to Stroudsburg State police the truck, owned by Rodgers Motor Lines, Inc., was southbound on Route 12. The driver, Sylvester J. Halesky, 28, of Scranton, said he was forced to the shoulder of the highway by an unidentified northbound truck.

After leaving the highway Halesky said his truck hit the guard railing and he lost control of the vehicle.

The cab plunged over a short embankment into a branch of Michaels Creek and the trailer jack-knifed, turned over. Television tubes were thrown a distance of 50 feet from the trailer. The tractor landed upright in the shallow water.

Police said the tractor was valued at $6,000 and the trailer at $1,000.

Court Upsets Decision By Christenberry

New York (AP)—A State Supreme Court justice yesterday reversed Athletic Commission Chairman Bob Christenberry and declared Joey Giardello the victor over Billy Graham in their Dec. 19 boxing bout in Madison Square Garden.

That is the fight in which Giardello at first was declared the split-decision winner only to have Christenberry alter a judge's card to make Graham the victor.

In an 11-page decision, spiced with a pointed observation that boxing commissioners are "not presumably appointed on the basis of their expertness in judging prize fights," Justice Bernard Botein annulled the action by Christenberry.

Justice Botein said there were no facts to indicate why the two commissioners (Christenberry and Dr. C. D. Powell) chose to override the decision of their own acknowledged expert (Judge Joe Agnello).

Noting that judges and referees are designated on the basis of skill and experience, Justice Botein said "substantial scoring differentials among ringside officials ordinarily excite no alarm in boxing circles and split decisions are no rarity."

Giardello thus won the fight for the second time in two months. First he was declared the winner by a 2-1 vote of the three officials. Then he was an "unofficial winner," pending a review of the cards.

Still later, the same night he lost the fight on the reversal of Agnello's card. Now he gets the decision—his second disputed split win over the New York welterweight.

Graham and Giardello, a ranking middleweight from Philadelphia, got a chance to settle their differences in the ring, rather than court, March 6 in a 12-round rematch at the Garden.

Mardi Gras Ends As Lent Begins

New Orleans, (AP)—Devils kissed angels as New Orleans staggered through the happy madness of Mardi Gras yesterday.

Clowns, pirates, men from Mars and hundreds of thousands of others jammed "The City That Cares Forgot" for the explosive climax of the 1953 carnival season.

The lid was off, and business men, teachers and teenagers put on costumes for the biggest day of the year. School was let out for the fun.

Rex, lord of misrule and benevolent monarch of the Mardi Gras, furnished the spark that touched off the chain reaction of glittering parades, street dancing, costume contests and assorted happy nonsense peculiar to the day.

Napalm Mines Halt Attacks By Red Army

Seoul, (AP)—Eighth Army forces tossed back nine small but fierce Communist thrusts along the Korean battle front yesterday, using fiery napalm land mines at one point to halt the Red attacks.

In the air, Sabre pilots reported they shot down one MIG and damaged another in the fourth straight day of blazing air combat in which 28 Red planes have been destroyed or damaged. Fighter-bombers swarmed over North Korea, blasting supply stores and communications.

The ground war slackened today. Only two small brushes were reported across the chill, 155-mile front.

But in the air Allied B26 light bombers hammered during the night at Communist trucking and reported almost 100 destroyed.

In Tokyo, the Navy said six MIG jets jumped five slower, propeller-driven Marine Corsairs from the carrier Bataan as the Americans prepared to attack Red positions in North Korea.

Lenten Meditation

Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth, give I unto you. John 14:27.

Among the last words that Jesus spoke to His disciples while here upon this earth were these words which we might call His legacy to those who follow Him.

His legacy was peace, which is a state of tranquility or quietness of heart.

It was a personal legacy that Jesus was leaving to those who belonged to Him.

"Not as the world giveth," because the world is not filled with tranquility, but with war and unrest. Therefore the world cannot give to us what it does not possess.

Ike Chats With Adlai

Washington (AP)—Adlai Stevenson swapped campaign reminiscences with President Eisenhower over a luncheon of breast of guinea hen and wild rice at the White House yesterday.

Arriving at the executive mansion, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate whimsically remarked to newsmen:

"These Republicans are treating me so nicely that I think I'm beginning to like Washington—maybe too much."

Then, while photographers' flash bulbs flared, Stevenson smiled, waved and quipped:

"With all this waving, you'd think I was a candidate."

The former Illinois governor was closeted alone with Eisenhower for 30 minutes before sitting down to luncheon with 20 Congress members in the big state dining room.

Rep. Camp (D-Ga.), one of those who attended, said Eisenhower and Stevenson sat side by side at the table and appeared to be having a fine time.

"They chatted in a very friendly way," Camp said.

Stevenson said later he was deeply grateful to the President for the invitation.

Court Refuses To Open Jelke Trial

New York, (AP)—The State Supreme Court refused yesterday to lift the lid of secrecy from Minot (Mickey) Jelke's cafe society vice trial.

Supreme Court Justice Benjamin F. Schreiber said in a nine-page decision directed to representatives of the New York press:

"The court has no right or power on these applications to decide whether the trial judge should or should not have ordered the exclusion of the public and the press from the Jelke trial."

The proper place to decide the issue, he added, is in the state's appeals courts. The newspaper group announced it would decide today whether to make such an appeal.

Dairymen Ask Continuance Of Support Program

Washington (AP)—A dairy industry advisory committee recommended yesterday that the government continue for another marketing year to support producer prices of butterfat in milk at the current rate of 90 per cent of parity.

Under the present program, the Agriculture Department has found it necessary during the last two and a half months to buy about 50 million dollars worth of butter and cheese to keep dairy prices from dropping below the guaranteed level.

It also has bought nearly 18 million dollars worth of dried milk for the same purpose since last April.

The recommendation was made to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who soon must decide on a price support program for the marketing season starting April 1.

Independent Phone Toll Rates Hiked

Blue Mountain and Blue Ridge Telephone Companies are the only two independent firms in this area affected by a Public Utility Commission raise of five cents on toll charges granted this week.

Bell Telephone Company received the grant last December. The Blakeslee and Fern Ridge Telephone Company at Pocono Lake does not come under the order.

The increase granted to 51 independent companies who are members of the Pennsylvania Independent Telephone Association goes into effect March 1 and applies only to long distance calls within the company's own system.

Blue Mountain Telephone Company manager, James Drury, said in Bangor yesterday his firm did not ask for the order and was non-committal on the future plans by his concern. He indicated, however, several areas would come under jurisdiction of the program, all now charging ten cents for calls.

Drury said the lines between Portland and Bangor, and Pen Argyl and Bangor, are "free lines," with no toll charges made for calls. The exchanges that could be effected are Portland to Pen Argyl; Portland to Saylorsburg; Bangor to Saylorsburg; and Pen Argyl to Saylorsburg. Drury declined to say whether the rates would be placed in operation.

Blue Ridge Company has a line between Kunkletown and Palmerston operated on a toll basis, it was learned. This branch would come under the PUC's order. Efforts to reach W. H. Pearsol, president of the company, for a statement on his plans were of no avail yesterday since lines in that section were reported out of order.

Franklin Smith, head of the Blakeslee-Fern Ridge Company and vice president of Pennsylvania Independent Telephone Association said his firm is not effected because there are no toll charges within the company's system. Circuits cover Pocono Lake, Pocono Pines, Long Pond and Blakeslee and are free lines, Smith said.

The new schedule raised the basic toll from five to ten cents up to eight miles; 10 to 15 cents from eight to 13 miles and 15 to 20 cents from 14 to 18 miles. All rates above that are scaled up five cents from the present rate, the PUC announced.

The increase will raise an estimated $302,000 additional revenue for the independent companies. A breakdown of increases for Blue Mountain and Blue Ridge Companies was not available immediately. The new schedule parallels rate increases granted the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania which went into effect in December. The companies serve about 350,000 customers. The commission said there were no protests.

Request to increase rates came from Pennsylvania Independent Telephone Association, Smith said, and followed a similar appeal by Bell Telephone Company. The requests were made on blanket orders, Smith said, conforming with other increases throughout the country.

Two Vehicles Collide At Intersection

Damage estimated at $455 occurred Monday afternoon when a truck and car collided at the intersection of Broad and Bryants Streets in Stroudsburg. No injuries resulted.

Officers William Coolbaugh investigated the collision between the truck, owned and operated by Paul Flyte, 60, of Stroudsburg RD 2, and a car driven by Layton W. Lambert, 52, of Tannersville.

According to police Flyte was traveling east on Bryant St. Lambert was driving south on Broad when the cars crashed and his vehicle spun around and was crushed against a tree. Damage of $5 was estimated to Flyte's truck while the remaining $450 damage was inflicted on the Lambert car.

Vampires were formerly believed to be ghosts who left dead bodies at night to suck the blood of living persons and it was believed such activity could be controlled by driving a stake through the dead body.

Area Chosen For State Convention

Blakeslee — The Pocono Mountains region has been selected by Pennsylvania Independent Telephone Association as the scene of its 1953 convention, Franklin Smith, president of Blakeslee-Fern Ridge Co. and vice president of the association announced here last night.

Smith said arrangements have been made for 400 delegates to attend sessions June 2, 3, 4 and 5 at Pocono Manor. Last year's convention was held at Bedford Springs.

Smith was named vice president two years ago and automatically becomes association president in 1955.

"I would like to see this convention held in the Poconos every other year," Smith said, "but that decision will be made at the June meetings."

Pancake Race Stirrs Religious Wrangle

Olney, Eng. (AP)—Olney's flying housewives recaptured the world pancake championship yesterday and plunged into the hottest British religious wrangle since King Henry VIII burned the monasteries.

First home over the 415-yard winding course from Olney's town pump to the door of the 14th Century Anglican church was Mrs. Isobel Dix, 23, brunette mother of two children. Her time—1 minute 7.2 seconds—was a new world record.

She was 1.8 seconds faster than Mrs. Minnie Dick, 26, who led the field in the race's counterpart later at Liberal, Kan.

Mrs. Dix collapsed into the arms of Olney's vicar, Rev. Donald W. Collins, as she hurried over the finishing line. The parson called for water to revive her before she could receive the winners' prize.

ner's traditional "kiss of peace" from Verger Bill Mynard.

Then the religious wrangle developed. Mrs. Dix, Irish born and an ardent Roman Catholic, refused to enter the church for the Shrove Tuesday service which has followed the pancake race every year since Olney started the sport in the 15th Century.

Parson Collins insisted the church service was an essential part of the event and all who entered the race must attend it. Finally they worked out a compromise. Mrs. Dix agreed to sit on the church porch while the service was held.

Some people said the affair might "end the pancake racing tradition. Others dismissed it as a new blunder in an age-old religious wrangle that may never be settled.

Motoring Problem Affects Dealers

San Francisco, (AP)—The nation's automobile dealers were advised by one of their leaders yesterday to interest themselves in the highway and parking problem or expect to see the music from their "well-worn cash registers becoming a funeral dirge in far too many dealerships."

Walter B. Cooper of Ft. Collins, Colo., brought this warning to the convention of the National Automobile Dealers Association.

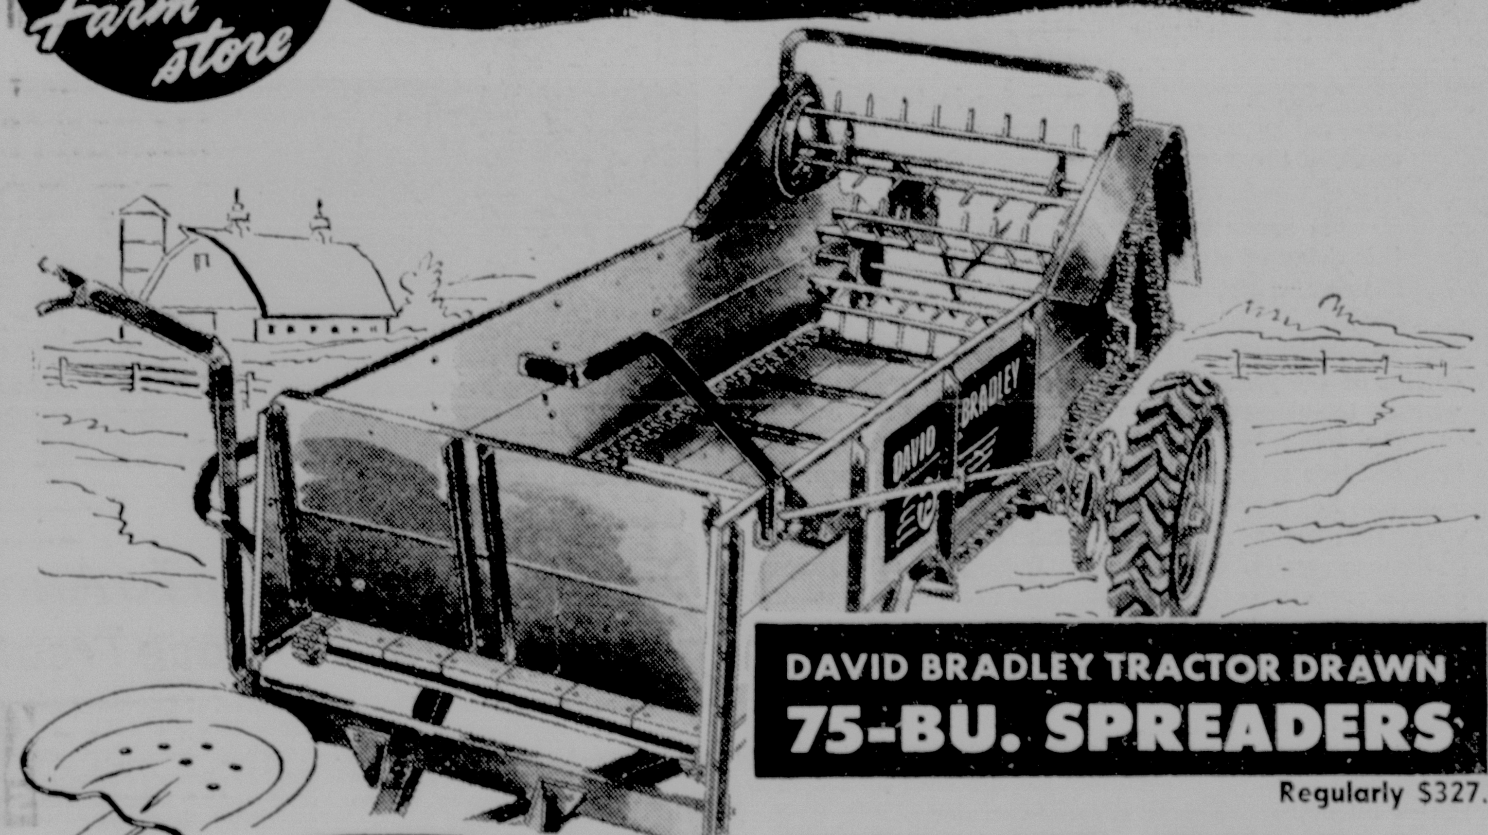

When use of the family car becomes less attractive or profitable, because of the parking and highway situation, Cooper said, "Then our product will be used less and less and the date of replacement advanced far beyond what it would otherwise be."

Mr. Olson's Telephone Service

A dramatic letter appealing for help to get telephone service restored in the Sciota region—service supplied by the Blue Mountain Independent Telephone Company of Bangor—and a notice of a toll rate increase granted to that company arrived almost simultaneously at this newspaper's editorial offices.

The writer of the letter, John Olson, appealed "for help in getting our telephone service restored which has been cut since the January 9 storm."

"The dangers of fire, illness and injury are increased tremendously by this loss of communication," says Mr. Olson. He adds:

"Only a few days ago, a fire in this area as reported in your paper, nearly got out of hand because of the delay in reporting it occasioned by the loss of telephone service.

"It seems to me that, bad as the storm was, this delay of over a month so far indicates inefficiency of a high order. Our whole section is in this plight.

This newspaper concurs wholeheartedly in Mr. Olson's outline of the perils facing residents in his region who are without telephone service.

The toll rate rise, effective March 1, applies only to long distance calls within the company's own system. Blue Mountain has long distance lines. All members of Pennsylvania Independent Telephone Association with similar installations received the increase. It parallels rate increases granted recently to the Bell Telephone Company.

The commission said there were no protests. How many subscribers affected by such an increase were given notice, or were aware a rate rise was even being considered?

The ease with which the Public Utility Commission grants rate increases is certainly not matched by action insisting subscribers be given adequate service.

The plight of Mr. Olson of Sciota is a brilliant case in point.

Public Utility Commission of Pennsylvania has a very definite obligation to the subscriber. They have an obligation to Mr. Olson and his neighbors. They should act at once to see that efficient service is given for the rates charged—especially the newest increase.

To Mr. Olson's final plea to this newspaper—"We shall appreciate any action you can take to remedy this situation"—our answer is:

A copy of this editorial is being filed in the form of a protest with the Public Utility Commission with a request for immediate action on improvement of telephone service for all the Mr. Olsons.

(Editor's Note: Mr. Olson's telephone service was restored Monday. His number is Saylorburg 37-R-3 and service came right at the moment he was confined with the "flu". He seemed downright gleeful to hear a voice on the telephone again, but complained that so many of his neighbors are still without service he can't find out how they're doing with the "flu").

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

The Court and the Rumor
Proceedings in New York's
"case - society - playboy - vic-

ing scandals of 1953" may or may not be open to press and public by this time, but whatever happens it can be said that never did secrecy bring out so much. During the hush-hush trial of Master Jelke everybody got dragged into the act except Mossadegh, Farouk, the Pannun-um conferees, Sergeant Provov and Sharkey the Seal. Any time a court bars the press from a trial to keep the show clean it fouls up the whole atmosphere. The trial was so secret last week that everybody was open to complicity. The air was, in fact, so thick with secrecy you could cut it with a movie offer.

Gossip reached a point where the corridors heard stories that Roland Sala had brought "Dem Bums" and would play Pat Ward at third base, that two girl witnesses had demanded a mistrial on the ground their profiles had not come out good in the tabloids, and that a lawyer had just asked a change of venue to Hollywood because there were more people who could be dragged in to the act out there. Other gossip included:

Rumor 3,678—The trial had been turned over to the McCarthy Committee on Excessive Flashlight Explosions.

Rumor 5,865—Judge Valente had asked the United Nations to take over the case, giving special attention to the problem whether the Seventh Fleet should protect white carnations in the laps of vice-rising counsel, and how far the free world should go in recognizing telephone taps.

Rumor 9,222—That President Eisenhower had refused to pardon anybody connected with the case.

Rumor 10,444—Mickey Rooney had just handed down a decision finding the press guilty of retaining too many boyhood photographs.

Jelke may have had the very best tables in New York night clubs, but in court he seems to have been seated behind a screen near the kitchen. It's the best trial Roland Sala, Pat Ward's lawyer, ever starred in. His corridor previews under the auspices of Blackstone Pictures, Inc., have been wonders. The report he demanded a retrial in technicolor is denied, but the trial is young. (Our special fear is that Christine (George) Jorgensen, just in from Denmark, may get into the act.) One widely held belief is that the air-raid signals should be sounded whenever a new witness starts naming names. One long siren: drop flat on your face wherever you are and just hope you're not IN THE GUTTER!

Video Observation
The man has seven writers—his jokes make laughs abate! But there's one consolation—SUPPOSE THE GUY HAD EIGHT!

President Eisenhower practices golf in the backyard of the White House. He realizes he will have to speed up his swing, due to the fact that down there among so many politicians somebody is apt to pick up a ball during a backswing. Ike has sold his dairy herd at Gettysburg. . . . From now on there can be no claim that his possessions influenced his policy in any issue involving a nickel deposit on milk bottles. . . . A fireman who was a high officer in a department association has been let off with a two-and-a-half-year sentence for a fund shortage that might have meant a thirty-year term. . . . This may be the first time a fireman jumped into a net held by a judge. . . . The Garble Sisters say they love that new picture, "J. M. Disney's Walter Pan". . . . The Teamsters Brotherhood is to organize taxicab drivers. . . . If this marks the debut of the cabby who won't cross a picket line, any chance of traveling more than two blocks in any street in America by cab may be knocked skyhigh. . . . Victor Moore, at 76, does the finest work of his career in "On Borrowed Time". . . . Robert C. Sprague, of North Adams, Mass., head of an industry built in that town over the years by his family, had to reject an appointment as an Air Force under-secretary because Congress insisted that he sell all his interests in his own company. . . . This was like asking him to leap from a plane without a parachute, hoping somebody would offer him a barrel on the way down. Dean Martin, video's famous knockabout comic, and his wife are reported separated. . . . Oh, maybe he's just clowning. . . . Tuning in by accident we ran into a TV western and were about to turn it off fast, when we detected, believe it or not, something DIFFERENT in cowboy shows. . . . The program was "Action in the Afternoon" and, incredible as you may think it, the stories, the cowhands and the action are plausible people. . . . The sheriff is a portly gent who hates to pull a gun, the hero tries to avoid fights at all times, there are few of those galloping sequences over the hills and WHEN ANY SHOOTING IS DONE SOMEBODY GETS HIT!

Robert S. Allen Reports

Dulles To Move Soon To Arm Japanese Under Peace Treaty

Washington—Secretary of State Dulles will shortly initiate discussions with Tokyo for the purpose of rearming Japan.

Congressional leaders have been informed of this impending move. The U. S. has the authority to rearm Japan under the peace treaty negotiated by Dulles in 1951 while Ambassador in the Truman Administration.

The rearmament plan is one of a number contemplated by President Eisenhower to strengthen native anti-Communist forces throughout the Far East. Others include the following:

Speedy increase in arms shipments to the hand-pressed French and Vietnamese in Indo-China.

Creation of a Defense Command for Southeast Asia. Leading participants will be the U. S., Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, and later the native states.

Build up the South Korean Army to a strength of 18 to 20 divisions. At present the ROKs have 12 divisions, all of them in the battlelines, and two others completing training.

Intensify efforts in the United Nations and in other ways to prevent the flow of strategic and other commodities to Red China.

Congressional leaders have been told the rearmament plan for Japan includes an air force of a "defensive nature." That means primarily fighter and interceptor type planes.

Japan already has received considerable military equipment from the U. S. on a loan basis. It is the Administration's aim to have the rearmament project well under way by summer. Details will be worked out with Japanese authorities by the U. S. Ambassador assisted by a special mission from the Pentagon.

What's Behind It — Dulles is laying great stress, in his private talks, on the urgent need to rush aid to Indo-China and to set up the Southeast Asia Defense Command.

He is putting the French ahead of the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa. "If we can lighten the burden of the French," Dulles is telling congressional leaders, "then I'm convinced we can save not only Indo-China but the stymied plan for a European army. One of the main reasons why the French are dragging their feet on the European army is the tremendous drain of Indo-China on their resources."

Dulles views lack of coordination as a principal reason for the long-drawn-out struggle against Communism in the Pacific. Malaya is cited as a graphic illustration of this grave shortcoming.

British Intelligence estimates that the Communists have around 5,000 armed men in Malaya at this time," Dulles said. "That is highly significant because it is virtually the same figure reported by the British in 1948. Yet, in the four years since then, the British have positively killed and captured more than 5,500 Communists."

"Obviously, there is something wrong in such a situation, particularly in view of the fact that the British are spending $3,000,000 a month in this struggle and have a military force of more than 200,000 troops, of which 35,000 are regular soldiers and airmen. Yet, despite all that, there are still as many Communists in Malaya today as in 1948."

An over-all anti-Red Defense Command, Dulles holds, would integrate the war against Communist aggression in an organized and coherent manner.

Note: Dulles is saying he is responsible for Prime Minister Churchill's statement in Parliament that he did not favor an early personal meeting with Stalin. Dulles is claiming this declaration as one of the main achievements of his recent European trip.

Blunt Talk — General Omar Bradley is continuing to make no bones, privately, that he doesn't think much of expending a lot of arms on the Nationalists on Formosa.

The Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff has long been skeptical of the fighting value of these Chinese troops. He is not opposing the Administration's policy regarding them, but Bradley doesn't hide his views when asked.

"This occurred during a chat he had with Senators John Sparkman (D., Ala.) and Hubert Humphrey (D., Minn.)."

"If the Administration is going to step up the shipment of arms to Chiang Kai-shek," said Humphrey, "where are these additional weapons going to come from? We're told equipment is so tight there isn't enough to finish the training of two South Korean divisions, which could be sent in to the fighting lines to replace our men."

"Most of the additional weapons for the Nationalists will have to come out of our NATO program," replied Bradley. "That will mean it will have to be slow-down."

"How much of a slowdown will that be?" asked Sparkman. "It will set the NATO armament program back by approximately 12 months," declared Bradley glumly.

It is recorded that winds blow so hard through Pail pass north of Honolulu that a would-be suicide who leaped from a height of hundreds of feet merely ballooned down to a broken ankle.

George Sokolsky Says...

Arguments That McCarran-Walter Act Is Unfair Toward Immigrants Is Baseless

Deportees and Immigration Law
Writing on the question of the deportees who enjoy all the privileges of American life, while legally having no right to be in this country, I missed a point or two incorporated in the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act, the most important being that if a country refuses to accept deportees who rightly should be returned to that country, the United States is empowered by law to refuse to issue visas or immigration permits to any nationals of that country.

In other words, should Italy refuse to accept Costello or Luchese or any other persons whom the Department of Justice seeks to deport, or should Russia refuse to accept Serge Rubinstein, the slacker, the United States consuls in Italy or Russia could shut down their visa departments.

Section 243, (g) of the act reads: "Upon the notification by the Attorney General that any country upon request denies or unduly delays acceptance of the return of any alien who is a national, citizen, subject, or resident thereof, the Secretary of State shall instruct consular officers performing their duties in the territory of such country to discontinue the issuance of immigrant visas to nationals, citizens, subjects, or residents of such country until such time as the Attorney General shall inform the Secretary of State that such country has accepted such alien." This provision of the law is mandatory and it is therefore immediately enforceable. In the case of a country such as Italy or Russia, exit permits are necessary if anyone is to be allowed to leave the country. That means that these governments control the migrations of citizens from their countries to others. There is hardly any immigration to the United States from Soviet Russia; the immigration from Italy is usually large, filling the quota, they could not obtain exit permits from the Italian government or immigration visas from the United States.

If, therefore, such a person proves to be unsatisfactory to the American government, if such an immigrant turns out to be a dope peddler or any other kind of criminal, we ought to have the right to throw him right out and to send him back to where he came from. There is now ample law to achieve that end. The United States does not need to be a dumping ground for the offal of the world.

Immigration into the United States is not a right; it is a privilege. My father and mother were both immigrants and I know how great a privilege it is to be permitted to come to and live in this country. I am sure that all my kinkoln in Russia and Poland have been tortured and killed as I would have been were I in those countries.

The older immigrants recognized the great privilege of migrating to America and asked for nothing more than an opportunity to make a new life here.

Some of the newer generations of immigrants seem to believe that they not only have the right to equality under the law, but that for some unaccountable reason they are entitled to special privileges, including the privilege of being criminals, of pushing dope, of bribing officials. Those who feel that way do not seek equality but preference.

If the opposition to the McCarran-Walter Act were based on the belief that it is unconstitutional, ineffectual, against American interest, there would be justification for revision. But the argument against this measure is that it is unfair to immigrants who wish to come and stay here. That is ultra vires. No one on this Earth is entitled to come to the United States; anyone is free to hope that the American people will welcome him, and that once here, he will so comport himself that the American people will want him to remain, so that his children may enjoy the benefits of American citizenship.

This may be an unpleasant way of saying what is true, but it needs to be said, particularly as many Americans are growing weary of being told by outsiders what they must do. It is the constitutional right of Americans to oppose a law, and that applies to this law as to any other—but the affairs of the United States must remain the proper business only of Americans. Foreigners ought not to have a voice in our law-making.

The Jelke case proves that planting wild oats eventually sprouts blooming idiots.

The two photographs which the Jelke lawyers contend have discredited Pat Ward as a witness are stills from a film made by one of Jelke's kin during an orgy in Robert Merritt's hotel room.

* Diane Harris was involved in an episode with the late Alan Curtis in Rome not long ago. The papers printed the story that she ran screaming down the halls of the Hotel Excelsior "battered and beaten up."

The H-wood colony making pix in Italy blamed it on Curtis.

Pat Ward's worry about damaging the morals of minors is funny, considering the fact that the other girl in those 2 photos (introduced by the Jelke defense) is only 15.

The best tip that Judge Valente's decision to bar the press was not his own is this: On the Thursday before the trial started His Honor authorized the installation of a public address system in the courtroom, so every whisper of evidence could be heard. On Friday, after it was installed, he summoned Jim Ritchie of the Associated Press (chief of the Criminal Reporters' Assn) and told Ritchie it would have to be removed.

If His Honor planned to bar the press, he certainly wouldn't have had a public address system put in.

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

In his brilliant, informal study of Winston Churchill, Robert Lewis Taylor comes up with some new stories about the great statesman. Like his father, Lord Randolph Churchill, W. C. was never too patient when anybody else had the floor. Nor could he tolerate being interrupted. He was in the middle of a yarn, for instance during the London blitz, when a bomb exploded so near Number 10 Downing Street that everybody jumped up from the table. When some order had been restored, W. C. grumbled, "Blast that Corporal Hitler! I believe he had that one dropped on purpose!"

When Churchill made his very first address at Bath, he was shown a proof of the story written for the London Post. The reporter thought it spoke well for the young orator's modesty when he drew a line through the parenthetical word "Cheers." What W. C. inserted, however, before "Cheers" was: "LOUD and PROLONGED."

55 Children Under Care Of County Society; Additional 11 Families Receive Assistance

A statistical report of children cared for by the Children's Aid Society of Monroe County during the past year marked the board of directors meeting of the society yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Jesse Flory presided in the absence of Mrs. Frank L. Patterson.

Mrs. Jean Albert, executive director, gave the report which showed that 55 children were now in care; that there had been 11 admissions during the year and eight discharges, all to their own parents. There were 18 replacements in foster homes, and one adoption.

In addition 11 families, representing 19 children, had applied for aid and had been assisted in finding a solution to their problems.

The number of foster homes in use varied from 20 to 24 during the year with six homes closed during the year because the foster parents of many years of service were no longer able to take children.

The need of new foster homes remained acute, Mrs. Albert said, although the response to a series of articles written by Leonard Randolph in The Daily Record, and to a radio appeal given by Mrs. Albert on WVFO had brought excellent results and a number of homes were now being studied.

Announcement was made of the quarterly meeting of the advisory board of the Children's Aid Society of Pennsylvania to be held Feb. 20 in Philadelphia.

A letter written by Mrs. Frank Patterson on behalf of the board commending Governor Fine for his support of proposed legislation dealing with the welfare of children in Pennsylvania.

An outgrowth of the Governor's committee on children and youth, the proposed legislation would include a clarification of the county institution district laws; a child-caring service in each county; and amendments to the state adoption laws.

Ceramic Tile Coming Into Greater Use

A much wider use of ceramic tile for walls and floors in both new and remodeled homes is indicated by a new method of setting tiles without the usual heavy bed of mortar.

This method, known in the trade as thin-setting, involves the use of adhesives to hold the tile to any flat surface that is strong enough to support the weight of the tile.

You can now have the tile applied directly to plaster or gypsum wallboard, over smoothed masonry or waterproof plywood—even over hardboard of the pressed wood type, which can be used to provide a true surface where one is lacking.

Developed and tested over a period of years, thin-setting has now won official recognition of the Tile Council of America. This organization, comprising the large tile manufacturers, is now distributing complete specifications on this method to architects and contractors throughout the country.

Tile came out of the bathroom a long time ago. It has been filling swanky roles in modern living kitchens and nurseries. Architect rooms as well as utility roles in Herman York, among others, has re-employed it around fireplaces in his Dutch-style kitchens. And handmade tiles, the work of artists, have been used to decorate living room mantles.

But the extensive use of tile has been limited to a great extent by installation costs. With every tile carefully set by hand and "trued" to a perfect surface, many hours of highly skilled labor have been involved. Another item, the structural strength necessary to provide a rigid foundation for thick beds of mortar on lath, also has tended to keep tile work in the luxury class.

Now the spreading of a thin coat of adhesive over an existing sound surface, and merely setting the tiles in this thin bed, is bound to reduce costs. Reductions expected are in installation time, weight of the completed work, and in dirt and dust of a remodeling job.

According to one university's research the cost of tilework can be cut about 20 per cent by direct adhesion.

However, the Tile Council observes realistically that "jurisdictional decisions, site conditions, the local contractor's preferences in methods, local availability of materials and labor, and other factors affect the economies."

Possible advantages and disadvantages of the thin-setting method are outlined in the specifications for architects. The advantages include patching without chiseling out the mortar bed; saving on tearing out walls; saving of waiting time for mortar coats to set. The possible drawbacks include difficulty of working with an imperfect or out-of-true surface; risk of structural supports lacking strength to withstand lateral movement; inexperience by local mechanics and acceptability of method in the locality.

It seems inevitable that many of the latter points will be overcome in time since adhesives already have been used by some tile contractors. The council's specifications were based on a nationwide survey of practices and experiences.

Of course, the biggest factor which probably will hasten perfection of the method, is public demand. Adhesives are being used extensively in the installation of other floor and wall materials with tremendous markets opened by do-it-yourself instructions.

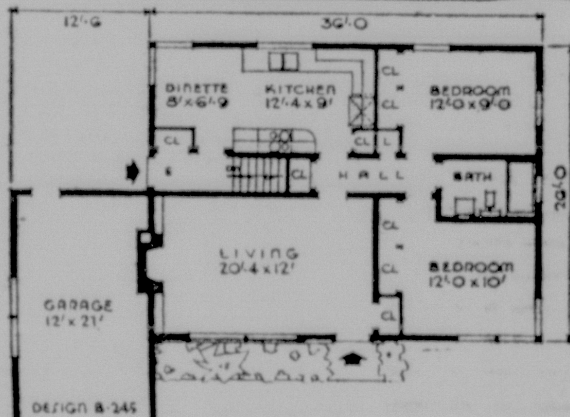

With home building and remodeling expected to set new records this year, the tile industry undoubtedly will be kept busy. Their product has been around a long while. In 3,000 B. C. one of Egypt's Pharaohs had his tomb in the Step Pyramid lined with red, yellow and blue glazed tile. More than 250 acres of walls in New York's subway stations and automobile tunnels are lined with tile. It's probably here to stay.

Salvage Old Brushes

Old paint brushes can sometimes be salvaged by soaking them in turpentine for a few days and then scraping the hardened paint off the bristles with the back of a knife.

Change Fireplace Color

If your living room fireplace is red brick and the color does not harmonize well with your scheme of decoration, it can be attractively painted with one of the coatings made especially for masonry.

In color television, the primary colors are not red, blue and yellow. Rather they are red, blue and green. This combination was picked, the experts say, because they not only will reproduce white in the proper combination but will affect all other hues as well.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Monday seemed to be PTA Day, and Tuesday, Welfare Day—so let's hope that Wednesday will be stay-at-home day. Especially the first Wednesday in Lent. I don't know whether all the organizations have been hustling to get in their special events before Lent, or not, but there certainly has been a flood of stories.

You got the feeling of Hercules, or whoever it was, fighting the Hydra, who promptly grew two heads every time one was cut off. Along about two weeks before Easter I'll be pining for something to happen no doubt.

Still even from this distance, I can see the Community Chorus recital coming up, and the University Women's School for Parents, and the Red Cross Fund campaign, and the—well anyway, I guess we'll manage.

However, this is the time of year when we could stand a little respite from meetings. It's the time when you'll hear "Next year, I'm not going to get involved in so many things" from every side.

Just give them a few days rest, though, and a little warm weather and they'll be back in harness and pulling more than their share, as usual. Which is why the nominating committees always choose April as the month to sneak up on their victims, basking in the thought of a summer with nothing to do.

Listen To Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10:15 a.m.

Fire Co. Aux. Tonight

Delaware Water Gap — The Delaware Water Gap Fire Company Auxiliary will meet tonight at 8 at the home of Mrs. Stanley Siproth in the village.

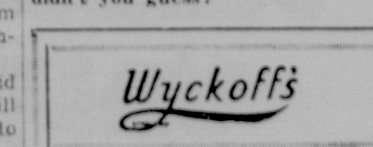

I once knew a girl named Ginger who was in love with a fellow named Basil... called "Bay" for short. Maybe you have heard this story. As a matter of fact, it was quite a savory topic for awhile whenever a group got together and had thyme on their hands. Everything was going beautifully until Marjoram and Rosemary arrived on the scene. Then—let's make it—Basil began currying on and Ginger found him more and more chili. It was a peppery subject and the gossip mill had a clovery time grinding away until Ginger tried a noble ex-spasmint. Being a sage girl, she began lecturing herself over a cup of ground Java.

"I've been tarragon long enough," she concluded. Either he stops acting like a nutmeg, or—gan-o. Once I get rid of Mei Yen, and begin taking men with a grain of garlic salt, I'll find it's a Beau Monde after all. There are times when a woman simply must get up on her high horses radish before she goes to celery seed."

Basil too was deciding that he'd been a bit of a coconut. To think it over, he drove to the cinnamon (forerunner of cinerama) and there he saw Ginger—all dressed up in a gown with a turnerie and wearing a cardamon sweater and a corsage of cassia buds. My, but she looked Spice. But no longer would she curry to him, and this was a bitter dill to swallow.

No longer did Bay leave. Fact is, ever since the wedding bell (peppers) rang out, it's been Ginger who's had the upper hand. In season and out.

And that I guess is the end of the story. As you may have recognized, it reads like an index of the Spice Island products sold here at Wyckoff's. It is also a gentle reminder that Women's Days come to our store with fun and frolic and "sugar coated specials" on February 27th and 28th. The theme? SUGAR n' Spice... didn't you guess?

Lions Pay Tribute To Mrs. Brewer

Stroudsburg Lions, at their regular dinner meeting last night in the Penn-Stroud ballroom, paid tribute to the memory of Mrs. Effie Nase Brewer, who died last week. Mrs. Brewer, a member of the hotel staff, had assisted for many years at the club dinners. A letter of sympathy in his bereavement was ordered sent to her husband.

The program for the night was in charge of Al DeRenzis, of Bushkill, who presented the interloctor and six end men of the Bushkill Men's Club, who presented a section of a minstrel show to be given Friday night at the Middle Smithfield school. The interloctor of the show, Ralph Turn Jr., and his end men engaged in persiflage, solos and choruses.

The minstrel was given authentic atmosphere by the singing of old-time songs—"Don't Take Me Home," "On a Sunday Afternoon," "Rufus Rastus" and "Goo Goo Eyes."

The end men included Al Smith, Bob Winter, Ivan Michaels, George Angle, Charles Garris and Tom Walters.

In the business session, President Harry Phillips announced that the meeting of Tuesday, Feb. 24 will be held at Bartonsville Hotel.

Joe Kovarick and Bill Sheible were congratulated on the arrival of baby girls in their respective families.

A special committee was appointed to conduct a broom sale, the brooms to be sold being the product of blind artisans. On this committee are Lions Rahn, Long, Miller, Zateony and Butz.

The club joined other service clubs in advocating that business places be closed on Good Friday, April 3 between the hours of noon and 3. This was at the suggestion of the Monroe Ministerial Association.

The club voted to support the Community Chorus' concert on March 24. A block of tickets will be secured and sold to members of the club.

World Junkets Banned For Congressmen

Washington (AP) — House policy shapers acted yesterday to take some of the sting out of the old jest that, come Spring it's always possible to get a quorum of Congress in Paris.

The House Rules Committee served notice on legislators that global joyriding at public expense is out during this Congress.

"The lid is on junkets," Chairman Allen (R-Ill) declared.

If followed through, this will be the first time so drastic a policy has been imposed in the House.

Allen said he intends to make only three exceptions to the policy against okaying committee investigations abroad.

Unless unforeseen circumstances arise, he said, the exemptions will apply only to the Foreign Affairs, Armed Services and Insular Affairs committees.

In the past, House committees have usually received permission from the rules committees to conduct their studies outside as well as within the continental United States.

Waterfront Fire Causes Big Loss In Baltimore

Baltimore, (AP) — Fire wiped out a boatyard and devoured a million board feet of lumber on the waterfront yesterday in a flaming disaster which required the use of about 78 per cent of the city's first-line fire apparatus.

The 13-alarm blaze might have been even worse, but the 40-mile gusts of wind were blowing toward the water instead of into the heavy industrialized Canton Harbor section.

The fire department's arson squad had investigators on the scene throughout the day, interviewing workmen and trying to determine exactly how the blaze got started.

Damage estimates ranged from one to five million dollars.

Slatington Jars Stroudsburg To Keep Title Hopes Alive

Mountaineers Collapse In Second Half

Slatington High moved nearer to the second half basketball championship in the Lehigh Valley League last night, with a 65-52 victory over Stroudsburg, on the latter's home court.

The large crowd at the W. Main St. court watched the black and white clad Slatington outfit control play in the second half, after the visiting contingent reached the halfway mark on the long end of a 31-28 count.

Stroudsburg, plagued with fouls and injuries throughout the ball game, kept the home town fans happy during the first two periods of play by staying within striking distance of the visiting five.

Slatington opened gaps of 10-2 and 12-3 during the early moments of the first period, but Stroudsburg fought back to even the count at 13-13, before Slatington finished the opening eight minutes on the winning end of a 16-13 tabulation.

Both contingents came up with 15 points in the second quarter and both rooting sections had plenty to cheer about. The two arch rivals matched point for point right down to the halftime whistle, Slatington went to the dressing room with a 31-28 advantage.

Al Adelmann was forced to retire from the game during the halftime intermission because of a shoulder injury suffered in the second quarter when the Stroudsburg center crashed into the wall.

Bill Bailey took over the center duties in the third quarter and with the remainder of the starting five in action, Stroudsburg managed to stay within five points of the 1-10 Slatington contingent until late in the third round, Slatington held a 12-8 edge in the third period scoring and entered the home stretch with a 43-36 advantage.

Karl Weingartner was knocked unconscious in the final period when his head struck the floor, Bill "Bump" Metzger fouled out of the game with one minute left, as Slatington put the contest on ice with a 22-46 edge in the last round. Weingartner, who also had three teeth knocked loose, left the game with three minutes remaining on the clock.

Byron "Chick" Miller and Don Garavanti led the losing scoring parade with 14 points each. Every member of the Slatington club broke into the scoring column, with Merrill Eckart and Bill Braerman leading the way with 16 and 12 tallies respectively.

Stroudsburg made 20 of 35 foul shots, while Slatington hit from the free-throw line on 19 of 37 attempts.

Stroudsburg won the junior varsity game, 59-45, as Jack Whittle led the winning attack with 16 points.

The Mountaineers play host to Northampton on the W. Main St. court on Friday.

Sam Russell, Stroudsburg coach, announced late last night that wet N-rv plays of Adelmann's shoulder show no break, but that the three-letter athlete was in considerable pain. The dry plates will be read today.

Barbers, Shoemen Down Rivals In Basketball Doubleheader

Frank's Barbers took the measure of the East Stroudsburg Diner, 59-41, and DeVivo's Shoemen won over Frailley's Insurance, 60-51, in a pair of Industrial League basketball games at the Monroe County YMCA last night. Actually the Shoemen won a 2-0 verdict over Frailley's club when the latter used an ineligible player, due to illness.

Dick Merring led the Barbers to victory with a total of 21 points. Late Rush DeVivo's quintet used a 26-11 bulge in the final period to take the measure of Frailley's club. The Insurance contingent led 27-19 at the halfway mark, after overcoming a six-point deficit at the end of the first stanza.

Graham stood stunned in his corner as the small crowd boomed. After a brief consultation with commission officials, ring announcer Johnny Addie announced the decision was "unofficial" pending a re-check.

Score Card Angelo's card was changed to 3-5 rounds and the point score was altered to make his vote in favor of Graham on points, 7-6. Angelo had given the 10th round to Giardello by one point. The commission gave it to Graham by two points. Angelo had given Graham a one-point edge in the fourth.

It was announced by Christenberry that Angelo had not lived up to commission rules in scoring the fourth and 10th rounds. There were no changes in the other cards.

Justice Botein found the commission's reasoning "so vague as to be meaningless" as to what rules Angelo failed to follow. "No facts are furnished to buttress this conclusion," he said.

Stroudsburg won the junior varsity game, 59-45, as Jack Whittle led the winning attack with 16 points.

Wilson Leads Champs With 30 Points

Kresgeville — Tobyhanna Township protected its undefeated Monroe County League basketball record last night with an 85-53 decision over Polk High, here on the losing team's home hardwood.

Polk junior varsity dropped the TTHS yearlings into a first place tie with Barrett, when the home team won the preliminary contest, 28-24.

TTHS, already assured of its fourth straight league championship, ran its victory string to 10 straight against circuit opposition. Poik held a 12-11 edge after the first period, but the power packed TTHS quintet, paced by Jim "Cocky" Wilson, took over the lead in the second stanza and held it the remainder of the distance. The visiting five dominated the second round, 18-15, and reached the halfway mark on the long end of a 29-27 count.

TTHS ran wild in the third stanza, 30-15, and then made doubly certain of victory with a 26-11 bulge in the final eight minutes of play.

Wilson was the big gun in a winning cause, picking up 30 points on 11 goals from the floor and eight from the foul line. Bob Miller and Fred Blakeslee each had 19 tallies in a winning cause.

Norman Scheller and Marty Kreechel, each with 14 points, led the losing offense.

TTHS made good on 19 of 31 foul shots, while Poik creased the cords on 19 of 41 foul attempts.

Last night's game was the end of the current Monroe County League season, except for the circuit's All-Star game at East Stroudsburg on Friday.

Oakland City Mentor Charges Rio Grande With Running Out On Scheduled Cage Contest

Oakland City, Ind. (CP)—Athletic Director Delbert Disler of Oakland City College said yesterday that Rio Grande College and record-cracking "Bevo" Francis "are running out on a contract to play our basketball team" March 4.

Disler said Oakland City (5-18) is returning a $106 check which Rio Grande sent in an effort to cancel the contract.

The undefeated Rio Grande team had a $75 guarantee to play at Oakland City, the same amount guaranteed Oakland City for a game at Rio Grande last year.

"We figure it cost us $500 to make the trip to Rio Grande last year—transportation and taking care of 16 boys for three days," Disler said. "All we're asking is an even shake, but Coach Newt Oliver of Rio Grande has been completely unreasonable."

"When he told us he had a chance to play at the Cleveland Arena March 4, in a doubleheader along with the Seton Hall-LaSalle game, we made every effort to offer a suitable alternative. We couldn't go to Cleveland because we felt that would be unfair to our home fans."

"We offered to take the game to Huntington's 7,000-seat gymnasium and give Rio Grande half of the net. We offered the same deal for February 25. We also offered to cancel the contract altogether for $500, which we figured would let us break even on the two years."

"We also offered to keep our squad together two weeks longer than we planned and play the game March 16 or 17. Oliver phoned us Monday and said he would be willing to bring his team here in mid-March, without Francis. What kind of a deal is that?"

Bangor Quintet Sets School Scoring Record

Bangor—Bangor High thrilled its faithful following with a record breaking basketball performance here last night, as the Slaters won over Wilson Borough, 82-73. The 82 points was the highest single game total ever registered by a Bangor High quintet.

Wilson Borough didn't go home empty handed, as the visiting junior varsity took the Bangor yearlings into camp in the preliminary tussle, 72-53.

The varsity encounter was a closely fought battle, as Bangor led 18-17 at the quarter and 37-30 at halftime. The Slaters continued to pull away with a 24-20 edge in the third round.

Bangor fought off Wilson's finishing kick to be declared the winner. Wilson had the better of the last period, 23-21.

Rams Rally In Final Period To Take Measure Of Tigers

A total of 18 points in the final quarter carried the Rams to a 36-34 basketball victory over the Tigers yesterday, in a Ramsey-Morey School League contest, played on the Ramsey court.

The Tigers had apparently broken up a tight first half by outscoring the Rams in the third period. The third quarter edge gave the Tigers a 28-18 edge going into the final round.

Eastburg Takes Measure Of Court Rival

Middle Smithfield—East Stroudsburg Junior High jumped into an early lead and then battled its way to a 25-16 basketball victory over Middle Smithfield yesterday. The game was played on the losing team's home court.

EAST STROUDSBURG BEVERAGE CO.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Curt Simmons was in the Stroudsburgs on Monday and this scribble missed the star southpaw of the Philadelphia Phillies as neat as a rookie batter would miss one of his sweeping southpaw pitches. To the best of my knowledge this was Curt's initial visit to the area since he played both baseball and basketball in the Lehigh Valley League. The clean miss left yours truly feeling as if he had been splashed in the face with a chocolate pie thrown by a left handed catcher.

Simmons played the entire game for Kleckner's Rockets, against the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College Junior varsity and scored eight points, as the Allentown club came up with a 60-50 decision over the Warriors. Simmons, playing a guard position, tallied three goals from the floor and two from the free-throw line. Although Curt reportedly took things easy on the court, he was said to be in good shape and ready for the opening of the Spring training grind.

I arrived on the scene just as the varsity contest, between ESSTC and Wilkes, was getting under way. But Simmons had departed for home, because of an early morning trip to Philadelphia yesterday. The presence of Simmons in the ESSTC gymnasium came as a complete surprise to all and only a scattered few fans who watched the preliminary contest received that little something extra for their money. The next view the same fans will get of Simmons will be in a uniform of the Phillies, either at Spring training or when the pennant fight gets under way.

The ESSTC varsity followed in the steps of the junior varsity on Monday and the Warriors went down an 86-70 defeat at the hands of Wilkes College in the main event. Wilkes displayed a good team, but the shocking thing about the ESSTC setback was the fact that the Warriors failed in the home stretch, a spot where they usually perform at their best. The charges of Coach Chris Denis pulled to within one point of the invader in the last frame, but couldn't come close when the chips were down in the final three minutes.

It appeared from this reporter's view point that the Warriors were a little off their feed as far as defensive play was concerned, as they scored enough points to win most games. Wilkes used its fast break to good advantage, and continually outtraced the ESSTC defenders down court. Yet, the best defensive player on the court was ESSTC's Ray "Casey" Kaseman, despite his team's weakness.

Kaseman did everything but sell tickets on Monday, making a habit of stealing the ball and breaking up scoring plays by Wilkes. In addition, the ESSTC cager fed his teammates and found time to tally nine points on three field goals and the same number of foul shots. Playing with an injured thumb, Kaseman hit his peak in the second half, as he tried desperately to spark his mates to victory.

In this column's humble opinion Kaseman will go down in ESSTC basketball history with such great floor players as Jim Frawley, Kenny Young, Jack Swartz and Joe Saeger. John Sloan scored 32 points for the Warriors against Wilkes, on 12 goals from the floor and eight from the foul line. Sloan is having a fine season and his scoring antics have been greatly responsible for the record of six wins and four setbacks credited to the Normal Hill cagers thus far this season.

Sloan is a demon under the offensive board and is a very good shot. Even in defeat John's shooting has kept the Warriors very much in the battle. Offensively the Denim men were as good as ever, but they did leave something to be desired from a defensive aspect. From my viewpoint the ESSTC basketball team misses Ray Steele more than anyone cares to admit. Steele is a fine point producer, but the Warriors miss the East Stroudsburg High graduate more from a defensive angle.

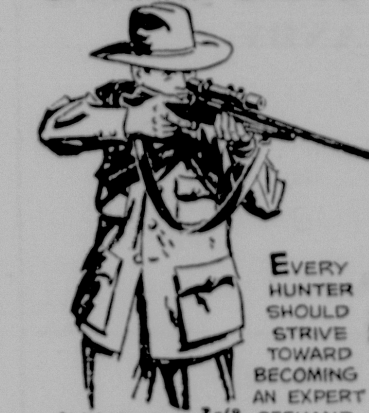

Among the well known fans at Monday's tussle on Normal Hill were Father Michael J. Kennedy and Father G. Barrett, from St. Matthew's, and Rev. Ernest T. Campbell, Stroudsburg Presbyterian. This game was one of the few that Father Barrett has seen that hasn't gone into overtime. As a bit of information for those who don't already know it, Father Kennedy is a former director of athletics at Mt. St. Mary's College. He never misses a local athletic event when time and duties permit.

Lehighon Cage Machine Rolls Over Biggs' Restaurant, 92-68

Lehighon—Lehighon Sporting Goods led from start to finish while taking the measure of the Biggs' Restaurant cagers, 92-68, here on the Lehighon High court Monday night.

Clarence Stroup, former Lehighon ace, led the winning attack with an output of 43 points, on 18 goals from the floor and seven from the foul line.

East Stroudsburg At Home With Bangor Five

Cavaliers Search For Second Victory

East Stroudsburg High school will return to the Lehigh - Northampton League basketball today, when the Cavaliers are at home on their N. Courtland St. hardwood with Bangor High.

The junior varsity encounter is scheduled to get underway at 6:45 p.m., while the main event will begin at approximately 8 p.m.

East Stroudsburg enjoyed an open date in its second half schedule yesterday, but the charges of Coach Dick Forster will go in search of their first second half win of the campaign against Bangor. Eastburg won one game in the first half race, gaining a favorable decision over Pen Argyl. Today's contest was originally listed for Tuesday, February 3, but was postponed because of illness on the Bangor squad at time of the originally scheduled contest.

Deadlock
Bangor, prior to yesterday's action, had won two and lost the same number of second half contests. The Slaters are currently tied for third place in the standings with Fountainhill and Wilson Borough.

The Cavaliers, not counting yesterday's games, are tied for last place in the standings with Pen Argyl. Both clubs, prior to yesterday, had lost all four games played in the second half thus far.

Coach Forster is expected to stick with the same lineup that extended Coplay in the first half of last week's game. This means that Don Herman and Captain Joe Chase will handle the forward duties, with Bill Pensyl at center and Bill Sommers and either Bob "Red" Kuplowski or Harold White at the guard positions.

Bangor won the first contest with East Stroudsburg, on the former's home court.

Stroudsburg Nips Eastburg

Stroudsburg Firemen made it three straight victories over the firemen from East Stroudsburg with a 7078-6500 decision at Harmon's Recreation.

Clean Sweep
The Stroudsburg club won every game while compiling the total-point victory.

Stroudsburg held a 2443-2138 edge in the first game, a 2301-2203 advantage in the second round and a 2334-2159 bulge in the final contest.

Garagiola Signs With Pirates

Pittsburgh (AP) — Joe Garagiola, the likely first string catcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates, signed his 1953 contract yesterday after two days of conferences with General Manager Branch Rickey.

Average
Garagiola, a lefthand batter and righthand thrower, hit .273 and drove in 54 runs for the last place Pirates in 1952. He is the 24th player to sign a Pirate contract.

Rivera Hot In Early Drills

El Centro, Calif. (AP) — Jim Rivera, lefthanded outfielder, has blasted 17 balls over the right field wall in his first two days of batting practice at the Chicago White Sox training camp.

Changes Stance
Rivera said he has changed his batting stance and believes it has improved his hitting.

The fight is scheduled to start at 10 p. m. (EST).

East Stroudsburg Teachers Hopeful Of Finding Winning Touch In Today's Clash With Trenton

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College is hopeful of breaking its two-game losing streak in basketball today, when the Trenton Teachers invade the Normal Hill gymnasium.

The junior varsity contingents of the two schools will clash at 7:15 p.m., while the varsity cage machines match abilities at 8:30 p.m.

ESSTC has dropped successive decisions to West Chester and Wilkes College, while running up a record of six victories and five setbacks thus far this season.

The Warriors have taken the measure of Wilkes, Ithaca, Trenton, West Chester, Paterson and Kutztown. Millersville inflicted two of the setbacks, while single losses came at the hands of West Chester, Panzer and Wilkes.

ESSTC took the measure of Trenton in their first meeting, 93-84, on the Trenton hardwood. The 93 points scored by the Warriors in that game was its top offensive output of the current campaign.

Coach Chris Denis, as in recent games, was quiet on his starting array of talent last night. But the likeable Normal Hill basketball coach is expected to stick with the same lineup that pressed Wilkes to the limit until the final three minutes of play on Monday. Joe Maioriello and Ray "Casey" Kaseman will probably handle the forward duties, while high scoring John Sloan operates at center. Tony Black and Ed "Jake" Palmer will probably be the starting guards.

The Warriors hit the road again for their third game of the week on Friday, when ESSTC matches ability with Ithaca College, on the latter's home court. In an early season meeting ESSTC won over Ithaca, 64-62, on a pair of last second foul shots by Ray Steele, who is no longer on the team. The first game was played on the Normal Hill court.

Warriorettes Risk Perfect Mark Against College Misericordia

A string of three straight victories will be on the line today when the undefeated girls' basketball squad of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College collides with College Misericordia, in Dallas, Pa., today. The game is scheduled to get under way at 7:30 p. m.

ESSTC Mat Squad Invades West Chester

ESSTC's lassies ran wild against Misericordia in an earlier game, 46-17, on the Normal Hill court.

The Warriorettes also own victories over Cheyney and Hunter Colleges in compiling their present perfect record.

Coach Genevieve Zimbar will probably face Misericordia today with Mary Schussler, Edna Mae Michener and Carol Mosser at the forward posts, while Grace Asberry, Janet Dicks and Jessie Rowe work in the guard section.

The Warriorettes play their next home game on Saturday, when the Cheyney lassies will make their first appearance in history in the Normal Hill gymnasium. Saturday's tussle is slated to get under way at 2:30 p. m.

Wrestlers of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will attempt to improve their season's record today, when the mat Warriors match holds with West Chester State Teachers College, in the latter's home gymnasium.

Action is scheduled to get underway at 3:30 p. m. ESSTC opened the current campaign by dropping onesided decisions to Ithaca College and Lock Haven and then finished second best in a close tussle with Wilkes College.

Win

The Warriors scored a 22-8 decision over Brooklyn Poly last Friday, on the latter's home mats. Coach George Ockershausen is expected to stick with the same array of talent that won over Brooklyn Poly for today's clash.

This means that Paul Ruane will wrestle in the 123-pound event, while Ralph Wagner carries the red and black colors in the 130-pound match. Other entries and weights include Bill Sibley, 137; Gerard Rushin, 147; Joe Myers, 157; Jim Revello, 167; Kenny Cox, 177, and Bob Tyson, heavyweight.

Fight Bets Can Be Settled Now

New York (AP) — Fight fans who made friendly wagers on the December 19 garden fight between Joey Giardello and Billy Graham probably will settle their bets now that Supreme Court Justice Bernard Botein has ruled in favor of Giardello.

But bookmakers, who handled bets on the controversial fight paid off a long time ago—and in some cases to both sides.

Dykes To Try For Impressive Win Over Miceli

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Bobby Dykes, eyeing a crack at the middleweight title, said yesterday he would go all out in his fight with Joe Miceli at the Coral Gables Coliseum tonight.

The lanky middleweight from San Antonio, Texas, declared he would try for an impressive victory over Miceli of New York and then asked that he be recognized ahead of Ernie Durando as a contender for the title vacated by Ray Robinson.

"I beat Durando here with ease," Dykes said when informed he had been dropped from the elimination tournament along with seven others.

Candidates
Durando, Paddy Young and Bobo Olson are the three mostly likely candidates being considered for the championship, according to Robert Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission.

Dykes said that his manager, Jimmy Parks, informed the National Boxing Association, co-sponsors of the tournament with Christenberry that he would fight Olson "anytime or any place."

Miceli, a 24-year-old Army private, also was ready for the 10 round bout which will be televised nationally.

"I'm in fine shape," said Miceli. "I've gained weight and power since I joined the Army."

The New Yorker, who is noted for his left-handed uppercut, said he was anxious to even the score with Dykes at this second meeting.

Dykes won a split decision over the soldier in a 10 rounder last year.

Charges Of Mistreating Pupils Denied By Veteran Teacher At Columbia, N.J., School

Columbia, N. J.—At a public hearing before the township board of education this week, the 57-year-old woman principal of Columbia School denied under oath that she had "mistreated" her pupils.

Appearing in answer to a formal complaint filed against her by a group of parents, Miss Matie Allen denied each of nine charges placed before the board. When the three-hour hearing ended, board members deferred final action on the case until March 3.

Charges against Miss Allen ranged from "hitting pupils with a ruler" to "attempting to choke" a boy at the school.

An estimated 90 township residents attended the public hearing. During the session testimony was heard from seven pupils and eight other witnesses.

Daniel Hamryka, 13, seventh-grade pupil, was the first witness. He told the group the principal "grabbed me" and "hit my head against the wall of the boys' lavatory."

Alleged assault occurred after Miss Allen had discovered Hamryka and other boys playing marbles in the rest room. Mrs. Beulah Sanders, PTA president, who said she was working the hot lunch program at the school on that day, testified she saw the incident.

Miss Allen said, however, that she had broken up a fight between two of the boys in the lavatory, marched them into the hall and met Mrs. Sanders there.

Another seventh grader, Harold Cowell, 12, said Miss Allen knocked him down on one occasion, put her hands around his neck and "choked" him.

This story was repeated by Darrell LaBarre, 13, who said he saw it happen.

Robert Baier, 10, said the principal struck him on the ear with a ruler.

Jeannette Hamryka, 8, Daniel's sister, said Miss Allen bruised her leg with a ruler.

Fifteen-year-old Esther Cowell—no longer a student at the school—said she was once struck by a broom wielded by the teacher after she had connected Miss Allen's name with that of an elderly male resident of the community in conversation.

Esther told the group Miss Allen had teased her about going to the movies with boys.

Irene Stout, 9, charged that the teacher had hit her on the head with a book. She admitted, under cross examination, that it "didn't hurt."

Cross examination of the children also revealed that none of them—or the parents—could establish the time of the year in which the assaults allegedly occurred.

None of the children had sought medical attention. Only two of them had reported the incidents to their families.

Testifying for Miss Allen, Mrs. Mabel Hill, first, second and third grade teacher at the school, said she taught in the room right across the hall from the principal's.

pal's. Mrs. Hill said she had not witnessed any of the alleged mistreatment of pupils.

A janitor at the school, Will G. Atwood, told the board he had neither heard of nor witnessed any of the alleged assaults on pupils.

Washington (N. J.) attorney Wilbur Rush represented parents at the hearing. Union county judge Milton A. Feller was Miss Allen's attorney.

District court judge George M. Shipman served as "referee" for the hearing. Shipman had first appeared as adviser to the school board.

In his summation, Feller recalled cases in which similar charges of pupil mistreatment had been classified as routine discipline, not corporal punishment.

Rush said the school board would have to decide where the truth lay. Because of their youth, Rush said, the children were not adept at telling lies.

Italians Regret Recall Of U.S. Ambassador, Protest Appointment Of Mrs. Luce

(Following is the ninth of a series of travel articles written by Ruth Haller Ottaway, mother of James H. Ottaway, publisher of The Daily Record.)

By Ruth Haller Ottaway

Rome—The American Embassy, the former palace of Queen Mother Margherita is overwhelming in size and 1886 period architecture with extensive gardens, a labyrinth of marble halls, and unnumbered steps making the entrance to offices most impressive and difficult of access.

Mussolini could not have done better, but there is no hundred feet of floor space devoted to backing out and servile bowing when departing from the great Americans.

run in and run out until they are here long enough to catch the leisurely stride of Italian life, and learn that there is always time.

Our ambassador, Ellsworth Bunker, is very well liked. Regret is expressed on all sides at his imminent departure. The fat is in the fire, however, the moment the name of Clare Booth Luce is mentioned.

The idea of her directing the complicated and delicate relations with Italy seems to be generally disturbing. Men, women, Catholics, Italians, Americans are raising a storm of protest.

At cocktails at the Excelsior said a Protestant woman to an ardent Catholic, "Have you sent your protest to Washington? I couldn't send mine fast enough. It is the same with all of the women I see."

"Oh, surely, President Eisenhower will not let that happen," replied the Catholic friend. "The grape-vine close to American business officials in Rome reports that there is general dismay among American men here. At a dinner party of Americans living here, I heard one solid voice of disapproval."

American women are eager to see women holding high public office as recognition that there is no sex in brains. But they are also selective about the type of American womanhood representing them.

One group thought that such a woman as Congresswoman Mary Chase would give the office of ambassador to Italy greater dignity and would inspire greater confidence. They said, "Who wants the clever author of the play, 'The Women' (a great Broadway success, by the way), that Reno travesty of a week-end with some dozen flip divorcees, to represent us?"

(This, despite the fact that Mrs. Luce was converted to Catholicism about ten years ago and has since written a treatise on religion.)

Italian women are not active in public affairs nor does the upper class think it is seemly for a woman to be as resourceful and self-reliant as American women, and able to do anything that is necessary. This angle came to me through the wife of an American business official who speaks Italian and cultivates Italians with a serious desire to understand them.

American men still are averse to the holding of office by women, and many women dislike the idea too. The men certainly cannot bear to see a political plum such as this one go to a woman. They say that it simply will not work in Italy.

Italian men are abashed at the thought of dealing with a woman ambassador. They feel humiliated. It is not done. It is an insult to Italy. (Queens have ruled well over some countries, if not over Italy!)

Socially the wife of the ambassador plays an important role in

Conservation Service Names Unit Director

A. Norman Dietrick has been assigned at work unit conservationist for the U. S. Department of Agriculture's soil conservation service in Monroe County, it was announced last night.

He succeeds Altee Rebert who worked here three years and resigned to return home near Gettysburg where he will enter business with his father.

Dietrick, resident of Snyder'sville and graduate of Stroudsburg High School, had been employed by the service in Northumberland and Berks Counties. His office is on the third floor at the Court House, Stroudsburg.

The soil conservation service provides technical help to this district by assisting with soil and water conservation measures on lands of cooperating farmers.

eration, and through her mind he sways the world."

But Margaret was very much of a "go-getter" herself, and doubtless would have liked to be ambassador to Italy and would have done a good job. In any case, the betting in Rome is two to one against.

A recent survey indicates that 18,135,000 U. S. families serve wine when entertaining guests and 26,374,000 do not.

George Washington's 46th Birthday In 1778 Spent With Wife Martha In Grim Valley Forge

Martha Washington
By LAURA FENNER
Central Press Correspondent
Valley Forge, Pa.

Of the 67 birthdays during George Washington's lifetime, it would be interesting to know where each one was spent. Without doubt historians could complete a pretty accurate list, because so many of his years were spent in varied activities which are recorded history.

To supplement this, Washington kept diaries and journals in detail even under the most adverse circumstances and also he was a tireless letter writer and many of these are in existence today.

However, there is no doubt where General Washington spent his 46th birthday, and it is definitely known that it was not a happy occasion, but one filled with consternation as were all the days of that winter at Valley Forge.

One event undoubtedly brightened this birthday anniversary of the general. It was the arrival of his wife, Martha, by coach from Mount Vernon the day before. Through the years of the War for Independence Martha Washington spent a part or all of each winter with her husband, usually at his headquarters of an Army camp. Historians say she was an inspiration to the soldiers during those dark and turbulent days wherever she went.

Washington's headquarters here stands staunch and firm today as it did that dreadful winter of long ago. It was a private home before the arrival of the troops, and was one for many years thereafter.

It was the first building purchased as a Valley Forge shrine, in 1879, and around it has gradually been restored one of the great memorials in our land.

One room of the house is pointed out as Martha Washington's bedroom. Across the hall from this is another room where Martha, several wives of officers and women of the neighborhood gathered daily to sew for the soldiers, patching uniforms, knitting and darning stockings. When possible, food and medicines were prepared by them for the ailing men.

Martha remained here until June 19, 1778, when the Army was evacuated. She returned to Mount Vernon by coach, on what must have been a more comfortable journey than the previous one.

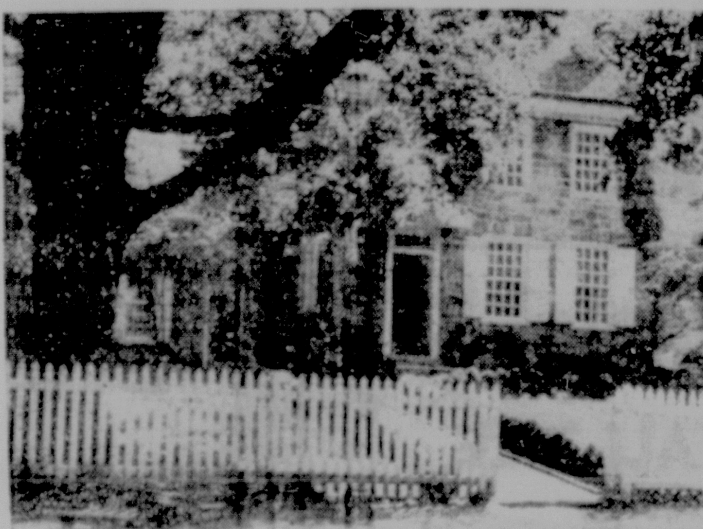

Two winters previous, 1775-1776, Martha was with her husband at Cambridge, Mass., which was a long, tiresome journey from her Virginia home. Washington had been made commander-in-chief of the Army in July of 1775.

That November Martha set forth on her journey to Cambridge. As her coach passed through the countryside word preceded her that the wife of the new commander would pass that way. Crowds turned out along the way to cheer and wish her well, and village bells rang out their welcome.

The Pennsylvania Gazette of Nov. 22 related in part: "Yesterday the Lady of his Excellency General Washington arrived here, upon her way to New England. She was met at the Lower Ferry by the officers of the different battalions, the troop of light horse, and the light infantry of the 2d battalion, who escorted her into the city."

She arrived at Cambridge on Dec. 11.

Aside from intense training of the troops the winter was fairly quiet until March when the British were driven from Boston. Martha Washington took pride in telling her grandchildren in later years that it had been her privilege to hear the first cannon at the opening and the last at the closing of most of the campaigns of the long war.

General Washington's headquarters at Valley Forge in 1778.

Martha Washington

During the war years, Martha Washington, patriot that she was, dressed in homespun garments or those from cloth made in the Colonies.

Just twice during the eight years that Washington was commander-in-chief did he visit his beloved Mount Vernon, and then for scarcely more than over night. Shortly before returning home at the end of the war Washington wrote to a friend:

"I can truly say that the first wish of my soul is to return speedily into the bosom of that country which gave me birth and in the sweet enjoyment of domestic happiness and the company of a few friends, to end my days in quiet, when I shall be called from this stage."

When George Washington was chosen first President of the new republic he wrote to General Knox: "My movements to the chair of government will be accompanied by feelings not unlike those of a culprit, who is going to the place of his execution; so unwilling am I, in the evening of a life nearly consumed in public cares, to quit a peaceful abode for an ocean of difficulties."

Martha wrote to a friend: "I little thought when the war was finished that any circumstances could possibly happen which would call the general into public life again. I had anticipated that, from that moment, we should be suffered to grow old together in solitude and tranquility. That was the dearest wish of my heart."

They were both about 57, which according to today's standards is fairly young.

Martha Washington took on the social duties which were expected of her and for eight years, first in New York then Philadelphia, the early national capitals, she presided wholeheartedly in the almost constant round of entertaining.

Martha put aside her homespun for silks and satins and received the great from here and abroad, as well as those from the quieter walks of life.

St. John's To Conduct Services

Extensive preparations have been made for the observance of the sacred season of Lent at St. John's Lutheran church, according to the pastor, Rev. Dr. P. N. Wohlson.

A full program has been arranged and sent to all members. This includes a pastoral Lenten letter and announcement of all services during the 40-day Lenten season. The pastor has arranged special series of sermons throughout the period with a few special guest preachers on several occasions.

Tonight at 7:45, the first of these services will be held in the church. The pastor will present the first portion of the Passion History and will preach the first sermon in the series on "Night Scenes During Our Lord's Passion."

The subject tonight will be "Among Friends." He will also use the penitential office of the Litany Prayers. At this service Mrs. Marjorie Barnes will sing "Repent Ye" and the senior choir will sing "Cast Thy Burden" as an offertory number. William Bolich will serve as acolyte.

At 8:45 p. m. a special meeting of the congregation will be held in the church to take action relative to the proposed first unit of the new Parish House.

Following this meeting the senior choir will meet for rehearsal and the Altar Guild will hold its monthly business meeting in the social room to prepare for the annual reception to new members on Easter Monday.

Line Material Plant Wins Safety Award

Line Material Company's East Stroudsburg plant copped the organization's 1952 safety award by completing 418,980 man-hours of work without a lost-time accident, it was learned yesterday.

Competing in the 10-plant chain, the East Stroudsburg plant chalked up another safety score to accompany 15 others received since operations began here in 1948. The plant employs 300 persons.

Miss Marie Cody, plant nurse and safety director, said yesterday the recent award, "Rodeo Champ", a large trophy will be presented at ceremonies here in April.

The occasion also will mark the awarding of two other citations; one from the state and the other from the company holding insurance in the plant, all for attaining perfect safety record in 1952.

At the present time the East Stroudsburg plant is in its 17th month without lost-time due to accidents, and the total man-hours has reached a phenomenal 579,943.

While last year's competition was the first of its kind for Line Material, previous records were set in East Stroudsburg, including 3,175,726 man-hours without mishap in 24 months from April, 1948 to April, 1950.

In the 58 months Line Material's plant has been located here, Miss Cody said, only two lost-time accidents were recorded in the overall man-hours of 3,052,023.

Transformer plant of Line Material, located at Zaneville, Ohio, placed second in competition with six accidents in 1,670,246 man hours.

Assisting Miss Cody as committee personnel in 1952 were Roy F. Lloyd, chief safety inspector; Charles J. Smith, Earl E. Edinger, Richard Shelley, Edna Carlton, Margaret Edinger, Harold Narbaker, Herman Pensyl, Chester Brish, James Bradford, William Marvin, Lester A. Boushell and Vernon Edinger.

Papa Vittorio Gassman, whom the shapely Shelley married in an elopement to Juarez, Mexico, last April 28, is in Rome. He had planned to be back here by the expected date of the child's birth, St. Patrick's Day.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to suit out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Chicago — Today's gentlemen who rent their formal attire can toss off the practice with: "It's been done for ages and by the bluest of blue bloods!"

They won't be saying it to save face either, as history will back them up with a resounding "Yea!" Take the weskits, for instance, that bit of bold male plumage that is once again coming to the fashion fore.

Called the "seemingly indispensable insignia of the male through the centuries," the Eighteenth Century weskits was so expensive the average purse could not withstand the strain. Many followers of the court rented one to insure their acceptance and social success at royal gatherings.

This finds its counterpart in present day fol-de-rol since the largest renter of formal wear for men in the city of Chicago this winter estimated that 78 per cent of the men wearing full dress to the debut parties, spent the next day returning them to his racks.

A well-dressed gentleman of the Eighteenth Century chose his weskits with utmost care as his social position as well as his wealth were measured by the elegance and design of his fabric.

Beau Richard Nash, social author of fashion and "King of Bath (England)" home of the original Pump Room, favored embroidered tapestry in his choice of weskits, although royalty chose flashier silks and satins.

An exhibition of the waistcoat, or weskits fripperies of the Eighteenth, Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries at the Cooper Union museum in New York, features designs produced by an era of "inspired idleness" as Everett P. Lesley, Jr., one of its organizers, labels it.

"It was this inspired idleness," he declares, "which released all those captivating futilities which give life its spice and novelty and an exciting phase was the clothing of the male."

France set the fashion pace during the Eighteenth Century, and although other nationalities ridiculed the French extremities of style, they imitated them when they could.

There was no limitation in design—a naval battle on a sea of green velvet, flowers, birds, bees all caught the dandy's eye. Luxurious embroidery samples were submitted to customers who then decided how they wished the borders of their weskits finished.

Embroidered fish, insects, theatrical scenes, cock fights, bull fights, brought more attention to the gentleman's weskits than the jewels and laces to his lady's attire.

In America, men's clothing reached a style low both in imagination and comfort by the advent of World War I and following the war, the trend was toward the casual.

The vest went west, as it were. This informality increased until the rationing period which preceded World War II forced fashion's stamp of approval to be given to the absolute austere, with not a vest in sight.

However, during the past few years, there has been a gradual return to grandeur, and the elegant weskits once more is blooming like a star in a spotlight. Lapels and flap pockets have been added by Twentieth Century wearers, but whether it be Tattersall check or tapestry, the best is best for modern beaux.

Be Careful When Using Ladder

When a painting project calls for the use of a ladder there are certain precautions it's wise to take. In ascending, remember, always, to take hold of the sides—never the rungs. Never straddle and slide down a ladder. When an extension ladder is being raised, be sure to hold on to the sides instead of the rungs. The proper footing for a ladder, while it is being raised, is also important.

End Splattering While Painting

To avoid splattering paint, place a piece of wire across the mouth of the paint pan. Attach the wire at both ends to the metal ears which hold the handle of the pan in place. Wipe the brush across the wire instead of on the rim of the pan to remove excess paint. The paint will fall back into the pan, not on the floor.
